

The Center for Fitness Personal Trainers

Cathy Ermis is certified in both Personal Training and Group Fitness through the American Council on Exercise. She also holds certifications in Biomechanics of Strength Training from the Cooper Institute and Pilates Mat through the Stott Program. She brings over 30 years of experience in the fitness industry, specializing in wellness and weight and lifestyle management. Cathy works with a variety of clients in cardio, strength, flexibility, Pilates, balance, postural issues, post rehab, basic nutrition, and stress management. She has a great gift of assisting others in unlocking their personal best in mind, body, and spirit.

Kathy Andrews is Certified Personal Trainer with the National Academy of Sports Medicine. Her 22 years of experience includes 14 years as Fitness Director for a local facility. Kathy is also currently certified with AEA Aquatic Exercise Association as an Aquatic Fitness Professional and Aquatic Personal Trainer Specialist and holds a Special Populations Certification with the Cooper Institute, equipping her to work with autoimmune diseases, pregnancy and obesity. She is certified in kick boxing, indoor cycling, Pilates Mat, TRX, and weight management. She looks for ways to support our Military and has a passion to fight the national obesity epidemic. She loves to hold workshops on myofascial releases, weight loss management, and Balancing Your Life Style!

Ken Marshall began his career in personal training in 2010 with a certification through American Council on Exercise, allowing him to do something he is passionate about and something he truly enjoys. Ken's parents were in the medical field, so it was natural for him to want to help others and have the desire to assist individuals in achieving a healthier lifestyle. Ken graduated from high school in 2003 from O'Connor H.S in Helotes, TX and Western State Colorado University in Gunnison, Colorado in 2007 with a Bachelor's Degree in Business Management. He is a Senior Fitness Specialist, Golf Conditioning Specialist and Orthopedic Injury Specialist. He also specializes in strength and conditioning, fat loss and injury prevention, and has helped male and female clients from ages 12 – 90. Some of Ken's other interests include motorsports (motorcycles, trucks, cars and boats) as well as stock market analysis, live music and sporting events. His clients appreciate the fact that he practices what he preaches and loves meeting and working with new members. Allow Ken to help you today!

Kathy Sears Hall is a Cooper Institute Certified Personal Trainer and a Fletcher Licensed Provider in 6 techniques, including Pilates Mat and Reformer. Fitness has been a lifetime hobby for her, seeing first hand the positive influence her mother Gail Sears, founder of The Center for Fitness, had on hundreds in the community over the past 40 years. While Gail was blazing the trail, earning among the first certifications offered from the American Council on Exercise, The Cooper Institute, and Fletcher Pilates, Kathy used her University of Texas accounting degree and CPA certificate to build a 27 year career in the energy industry. She and her husband Charles moved back home to the Hill Country in 2007, where she turned her hobby into a second career. Having had 2 back surgeries herself, she now enjoys helping clients reduce back pain and improve their posture, balance, and flexibility through work on the Pilates Reformer in addition to various pieces of strength and balance equipment.
